SPECIAL DINNER IN A BANANA PLANTATION

Banana cultivation has played a vital role in Gran Canaria's economy throughout history. Today, it remains a familiar sight in the daily landscape, even though the economy has diversified into other sectors.

A special dinner is planned for the evening of September 18 at Finca La Rekompensa.

This beautiful banana plantation is an outstanding example of a carefully preserved Canarian estate, offering spectacular views over the Atlantic Ocean.

Located in Arucas, on the north coast of the island and less than three kilometres from the sea, the finca benefits from exceptional temperature and humidity conditions that are ideal for banana cultivation.

The plantation provides a unique setting for a cocktail reception and dinner, where FAM Trip guests will have the opportunity to connect while enjoying local gastronomy. The evening will take place outdoors, surrounded by banana trees in an authentic Canarian atmosphere.

ROUTE TO THE SACRED ROCKS: THE NATURAL HEART OF GRAN CANARIA

This journey into the heart of Gran Canaria begins at a small local winery “Finca Escudero” (Santa Brígida - the winery region of Gran Canaria), where guests can enjoy of a breakfast surrounded by the tranquillity of the island’s rural landscapes.

From there, the route ascends through the mountains towards the centre of the Island. There, we will make a short walk to enjoy of the amazing views at El Mirador del Nublo view point, from where we will have views over the Sacred Mountains of Gran Canaria: Roque Nublo and Roque Bentayga.

On the Centre of the Island, volcanic formations, forests, deep ravines, old volcanoes and stunning panoramic images reveal the island’s natural beauty, offering views that stretch across its interior and, on clear days, as far as nearby Tenerife and the silhouette of Mount Teide.

“Risco Caído and the Sacred Mountains of Gran Canaria Cultural Landscape” was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site on July 7, 2019.

The experience finishes in Tejeda, a small village in the middle of the mountains, where guests will enjoy of local food surrounded by inspiring landscape.
